https://www.sesamestreet.org/games?id=304	The Sesame Street Website has lots of great games for supporting language. This one is a really nice dress up game where you can play together while you choose your character and decide what they are going to wear. A great way to give instructions and label .
https://www.sesamestreet.org/games?id=256	Play this game to work on sequencing and putting things in order. Sequencing is really important for both building sentences and words.
https://pbskids.org/daniel/games/guess-the-feeling/	Having the vocabulary for feelings is really helpful for children getting ready to go to school. This lovely game uses feelings words .
https://pbskids.org/scribblesandink/draw	This game not only tells beautiful stories, but the children are part of it too and do this by adding drawings that are incorporated into the action. Use it to encourage your child to talk about what Scribble and Ink are doing, and to retell the story. You could even take photos as you go so that you can look at it later.
Thinking about sounds in words
https://blog.allaboutlearningpress.com/phonological-awareness/file:///C:/Users/linda/Downloads/Dinner-Time-Rhyming-Game.pdf	Phonological awareness (being able to hear sounds in words) is a key skill in learning to speak clearly and for learning to read and spell. There is an explanation here and some fun games including Dinner Time.
